

Understanding the Treaty of Waitangi

- What does it mean for you & your work?

Bringing the Treaty to life for professionals & citizens

Bio:

Dr. Ingrid Huygens (Pākehā of Dutch heritage) is national coordinator of the Tangata Tiriti -Treaty People education programme, and has been a Treaty educator since 1989. Ingrid offers Treaty workshops around the country to many sectors, including health, social services, local council and the community. She co-authored an independent report on the Waitangi Tribunal hearings into the meaning of Te Tiriti o Waitangi and He Whakaputanga o te Rangatiratanga o Nu Tireni (Ngāpuhi Speaks, 2012). She is a registered Community Psychologist.

Bio:

James Barnes is Pākehā and was raised speaking Māori in Tauranga. He has taught at tertiary and iwi level on Māori and Pākehā cultural knowledge and colonial history. He is currently enrolled in a Mātauranga Māori Applied Masters degree at Te Wānanga o Aotearoa.

