

Understanding the Treaty of Waitangi

- What does it mean for you & your work?

Bringing the Treaty to life for professionals & citizens

Knowledge of the Treaty of Waitangi's intentions and implications is now required in many workplaces & professions.

This one-day workshop provides in-depth training & resources in a marae setting.

Participants will learn about:

- Māori-Pākehā relationships from 1800s to the present
- What the Declaration of Independence & Te Tiriti o Waitangi say
- How the Treaty agreements apply to you personally and professionally.

Who should attend?

- Anyone from a small workplace with no regular Treaty training
- All those wanting to update their training portfolios
- Newcomers with little or no knowledge of the treaty
- Employers needing to meet quality or contract standards.

How will I benefit?

Participants receive a Certificate of Participation, posters, handouts and a copy of the informative resource 'Treaty of Waitangi: Questions & Answers' (2018). Further resources will be available for cash sale. Teas & lunch provided.

Presenters:

Dr. Ingrid Huygens, national Treaty trainer [click here for presenter information],
James Barnes, bi-cultural consultant [click here for presenter information],

Community Waikato are privileged to host the workshop at

Hui Te Rangiora Marae, 89 Clarence St, Hamilton

Wednesday 21 October 2020

8.30am to 4.30 pm

Cost $150 per head

Click here to register
or phone Community Waikato
07 8381583

A follow up half day workshop is offered on Thursday 29 October 2020
@ Community Waikato to implement your learning into your workplace.

“One of the best facilitated workshops I have been to - it's had a lasting impact”
“Changed my thoughts and feelings about the relationship between Māori and Pākehā in this country”

“Something that every NZ workplace [should] participate in at least once!”
(Participants, 2016 - 2019)

